सार्वजनिक सूचना / PUBLIC NOTICE

Caution Against Unauthorised Websites and Social Media Platforms Publishing CPRI Recruitment-Related Information

It has come to the notice of the Central Power Research Institute (CPRI) that certain private websites, online portals, YouTube channels, Instagram pages and other social media platforms are reproducing CPRI recruitment advertisements, notifications and updates, often using the name and logo of CPRI in their independently designed posters, banners, graphics and thumbnails. Such platforms are also adding their own explanations, interpretations, opinions and predictions, which may mislead candidates or create confusion regarding official recruitment-related information.

Candidates and the general public are hereby informed that such third-party content, including explanations, interpretations, predictions and commentary, is neither issued, verified nor endorsed by CPRI. The use of CPRI's name and logo in independently created material shall not be construed as an official communication or endorsement by the Institute.

WARNING

"Such individuals, organisations and platforms are advised to refrain from unauthorised or misleading use of the Institute's name and logo and from presenting their own views or speculative information in a manner that may mislead candidates. CPRI reserves the right to take appropriate action in accordance with applicable rules and laws in cases of unauthorised use or misrepresentation".

Candidates are, therefore, advised to:

1. Refer exclusively to the official CPRI website www.cpri.res.in for all authentic recruitment advertisements, corrigenda, notices, examination schedules, application status updates, results and other recruitment-related announcements.
2. Exercise caution and not rely on unofficial explanations, interpretations, opinions, predictions or updates circulated through private websites, YouTube channels, Instagram pages or other social media platforms.
3. Access the online application portal only through the link provided on the official CPRI website or in the official recruitment notification. Do not share personal information, application credentials or make payments through unauthorised third-party portals.
4. CPRI shall not be responsible for the accuracy, authenticity or consequences of any information, explanations, interpretations, opinions, predictions or services provided by such third-party platforms.
